Political Reflections in Sevier Co.

We took no stand except for U.S. Senator John L. McClellan in last Tuesday's preferential primary—but we were curious about how Richard Arnold would fare in the Fourth Congressional District race in Sevier county, whose Gillham dam project was blocked for a time by a conservationists' lawsuit which Arnold handled as an attorney.

Wednesday's DeQueen Daily Citizen reached us this morning and told the whole story. Arnold ran last in the field of four. The Sevier county totals were: Thornton 1839; Richard H. Mays 566; Jack Coleman 526; Arnold 458.

The DeQueen editor, J. R. McKinley, wrote this piece of whimsy in his "This Small Corner" column:

Post election hangover:
Any person whose voting record runs about 75 per cent toward the eventual loser can't claim to be too sharp on predicting elections.

Nor is 20 years residency in Sevier county sufficient to figure out trends or the behavior of the voters on election day.

But I'm improving.
For instance, I predicted the total county turnout at 3500. Didn't miss that by more than 35 or so votes.

I also predicted (as did everyone else) that Richard Arnold would be last in Sevier county in the Fourth District Congressional race.

But did I ever miss Arnold's total.

After the drawing for places on the ballot (with Arnold drawing the first position) it seemed logical that he would get some additional votes.

Many political "experts" figure the No. 1 spot as worth 10 per cent.

Doing a quickie computer job, then, I saw Arnold getting 200 votes. Some 250 additional people proved me wrong.

I'm a stubborn rascal, however. I refuse to believe 458 people in Sevier county agree with the Texarkana attorney on Gillham dam.

I'm going to have to admit, too, that Richard S. Mays didn't run as well in the county as I thought he would.

And that David Pryor ran a lot stronger.

You can't win 'em all, they say. I sometimes think I can't tab any of them.

Nixon Takes USSR Treaty to Congress

Rushes From Plane to the Capitol

Apparently the Treaty Will Be Ratified

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's report to Congress on the U.S.-Soviet arms accord drew enthusiastic cheers, condemnation from several Democrats who saw it as a campaign speech and general agreement that the Moscow accords will win legislative approval.

A booming "Yea," primarily from the Republican side of the House chamber, greeted the President as he arrived to report to a joint session of Congress Thursday night.

In the halls afterward, Republicans and many Democrats said the President had made a balanced appeal for congressional approval of the two arms-limitation agreements.

Other Democrats expressed disappointment in harsh terms. "He had good prime time to talk to the American public with an eye on the November elections," said House Democratic Whip Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. of Massachusetts. "And he didn't tell us a thing we didn't already know."

Democratic presidential contender Sen. George McGovern, campaigning in California, said the absence of all but a passing reference to Vietnam was a "painful weakness" in the address. He pledged support for the agreements, however.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., heading up Democratic platform hearings in Pittsburgh, also noted that Vietnam was barely touched on. Until the war is resolved, he said, "We have not fully achieved our goals for real peace in the world."

Republican Rep. John Ashbrook, seeking his party's presidential nomination, accused Nixon of keeping parts of the agreement secret. Detailing comparisons of Soviet and American weapons capabilities growing from the agreements, Ashbrook said the Soviets "could deploy significantly more weapons than we could."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., who earlier had complained the Moscow agreements "give the Soviets more of everything," called Nixon's nationally broadcast report "a clever campaign speech on foreign policy, full of platitudes and generalities signifying nothing."

Leaders in both the House and Senate predicted Congress will approve the strategic-arms-limitation-talks—SALT—agreements but set no timetable pending more information.

"We'll send J. W. Fulbright the details," said House Foreign Affairs Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., "especially what we gave up on the SALT agreements."

Treaty Highlights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a summary of President Nixon's report to Congress Thursday night on his Soviet summit trip:

ARMS—He asked Congress to ratify the strategic-arms-control treaty and executive agreement he signed in Moscow, saying they will leave the United States strong but will forestall a major spiraling of the arms race.

RELATIONS—Nixon said the summit laid the foundation for a new relationship between the world's two most powerful nations.

VIETNAM—The war was discussed extensively at the summit and each side still has its own viewpoint.

TRADE—Nixon predicted the U.S.-Soviet commercial commission established in Moscow will reach accord on a comprehensive trade agreement later this year.

OUTLOOK—He said his journeys to Peking and Moscow resulted in movement toward better understanding, mutual respect and point-by-point settlement of U.S. differences with the two Communist giants. The threat of global war has not been eliminated but has been reduced, he said.

Planes Crash, 4 Injured

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP) — Two private planes crashed about two miles north of Guion (Stone County) Thursday, injuring four persons. One of the planes crashed while investigating the fate of the first plane.

Police said the first plane, a single-engine Cessna 150, hit one or more power lines and crashed into the White River.

The second plane, a Cessna 182A, out to investigate the accident, apparently hit the same high lines and crashed about 100 yards from the first plane.

Injured in the first plane were Mrs. Jamie Davidson and Leonard Woolford, both of Batesville. Woolford, a flight instructor, was in serious condition at a Little Rock hospital. Mrs. Davidson was being treated for minor injuries at a Batesville hospital.

Injured in the second crash were the pilot, Benny Kidd of Hot Springs, and Bill Yauch of Batesville. Kidd was reported in fair condition at a Batesville hospital and Yauch was believed to have suffered only minor injuries.

Warmer Temperature Expected

Southern winds should bring warmer temperatures to Arkansas during the next two days as a high pressure center that is controlling the state's weather moves to the east.

The National Weather Service said fair weather would prevail through the weekend with only a slight chance of showers late Sunday and Monday.

Highs today should range upward from the mid to upper 80s

Man in House Rule May Be Revived

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee has voted to reinstate the "man in the house" rule allowing states to refuse welfare benefits to a mother and children living with a man not legally related to them.

The provision would upset a 1968 Supreme Court ruling which stated that welfare benefits could not be denied a mother and children in such cases.

The committee also decided Thursday to provide, under its new Workfare program, that children of welfare parents who refuse to take a job could be referred to local child welfare agencies, which would be directed to make some provision for them.

It had indicated earlier that, if welfare parents declined to work, their children would get no assistance either.

The committee also agreed Thursday that a parent refusing to work would get one month's wages while officials tried to persuade him to take a job.

Under Workfare, about 1.2 million adults now on welfare, mostly mothers, would lose their eligibility for assistance.

Adults whose children all are in school would be transferred to a federal employment corporation.

Miami Beach Riot Prospect Stirs Police

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Circuit Court Judge Thomas Lee has announced an elaborate judicial strategy aimed at coping with any disorders at this summer's national political conventions.

"We've seen justice decrease in other areas during civil disorders," Judge Lee said Thursday. "That will not happen here."

Anyone who gets arrested can expect to be swiftly escorted to a secret staging area and be photographed, fingerprinted and booked.

Dade County plans to keep its Magistrate Court going around the clock, with lawyers, prosecutors and bailiffs on instant call during the Democratic convention July 10-13 and the Republican gathering Aug. 21-24.

Officials here have noted techniques utilized on other occasions in Chicago or Washington—such as "mass arrests" by policemen who sometimes wore no name tags.

"Our people always wear their name tags," said Police Chief Rocky Pomerance. "They will never take off their badges."

Judge Lee said the arresting officer will bring the accused to one of several "staging areas" to be set up at sites, not to be publicly disclosed, near Miami Beach Convention Hall.

The policeman is to swear his complaint before a court clerk. After being searched and having his right thumbprint taken, the arrested person will be transported to downtown Miami's Metro Justice Building to be booked.

Juveniles are to be separated from adults, men from women, and felony suspects from those accused of less serious crimes.

Navy Admiral Is Female

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alene Bertha Duerk has been sworn in as the first woman admiral in the 196-year history of the Navy.

"This is truly a unique and great day for all of us," Adm. Elmo L. Zumwalt Jr., the chief of naval operations, said at the ceremony Thursday.

Rear Adm. Duerk, the 52-year-old director of the Navy Nurse Corps, joins four other women in the Army and Air Force who received promotion to star rank in the past two years.

Food Pushes Up Living Cost in April

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new surge in food prices pushed up wholesale prices faster last month than in March and April, while the nation's unemployment rate remained unchanged at 5.9 per cent.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said today farm products rose 1.4 per cent in May after declining the two previous months. Largely as a result of that, wholesale prices of all commodities rose 0.6 per cent after slight increases the two months before.

The nation's jobless rate failed to show any improvement despite a slight increase in the total number of persons holding jobs. The bureau said 5.9 per cent of the work force was still looking for jobs, the same percentage as in April and March.

The wholesale price news appeared to spell a setback for President Nixon's program of wage and price controls.

The wholesale price index rose 0.6 per cent, or 0.5 per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis.

One encouraging note was the index of industrial commodities, where controls appear to have the most effect. These rose 0.3 per cent in May, the same as in March and a little below the 0.4 per cent of April.

When seasonal factors are discounted, wholesale prices of industrial commodities rose 0.4 per cent, the same as in April.

The most discouraging news for consumers was in the wholesale prices of farm products and processed foods and feeds, most of which are not controlled.

These had fallen 0.4 per cent in March and 0.7 per cent in April, but jumped 1.4 per cent last month. On a seasonally adjusted basis, the increase was still 0.8 per cent.

Ranks Sixth In Survey

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. George W. Jackson, director of the State Hospitals, said Thursday that Arkansas' mental health program ranks sixth nationally in a survey of 11 indices made by the Joint Information Services of the federal National Institute of Mental Health.

Jackson speculated that Arkansas would have moved even higher on the list had two additional regional mental health centers — at Jonesboro and Fort Smith — been included in the statistics.

Boswell Endorses Pryor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ted Boswell of Bryant, who received 13 per cent of the vote Tuesday in the race for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, today endorsed Congressman David Pryor for the nomination.

Boswell said that five minutes prior to today's news conference, an official in the campaign of Sen. John L. McClellan had called him asking him to remain neutral in the June 13 runoff between Pryor and McClellan.

Boswell also said his deficit for the campaign amounted to $45,000. When questioned by newsmen, Boswell conceded that someone in the McClellan campaign had offered financial aid toward reducing the debt if he would back the senator.

McClellan said earlier today at a news conference that he expected to receive the support of some of the persons who had voted for Boswell.

Boswell said he turned down the offer of a financial help from the McClellan camp. He said he would have been happy to accept financial aid from the Pryor camp, but that Pryor did not have any to offer. He also said Pryor said he had a campaign deficit of his own.

High-Paid TV Man Irks Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressmen, who are paid $42,500 a year, have come close to pulling the financial plug on non-commercial broadcasting, partially because a public TV newsman draws $85,000 annually.

The Corporation for Public Broadcasting's executives would have their $65,000 presidential and $45,000 vice-presidential salaries cut to $42,500 under a bill passed by the House by a 254-69 vote and sent to the Senate Thursday.

On-the-air personalities and production specialists barely survived with their sometimes-higher pay rates intact. An amendment to apply the $42,500 level to them failed 182 to 163.

Since this revision would have tapped deep into PBS sources of talent and programming by blocking use of federal funds for any group or institution paying its own employees more than $42,500, opponents claimed passage would wreck public broadcasting.

Says Labor's Search Found Rep. Pryor

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan told a news conference here today that his primary election runoff foe, Rep. David Pryor, is the culmination of a search by "national labor bosses" for a candidate to oppose McClellan.

The senator spoke to reporters at his campaign headquarters amid a crowd of about 200 campaign workers and well-wishers, including a number who hissed at some questions reporters put to McClellan.

Several newsmen remarked about the apparent hostility of the crowd toward reporters, and at least one reporter was castigated by a member of the audience when the news conference was over.

McClellan revealed that when he was elected six years ago to his fifth term, he "had no intention whatsoever of seeking this office again," but decided to do so because of several developments, including the possibility of becoming chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

"Another development was the plotting of my defeat by national labor bosses from outside of Arkansas who held a meeting here in Little Rock at the Sheraton Hotel last October, a meeting which was followed up by a number of other meetings in Washington, D.C.," McClellan said.

He said that a verbal statement by William J. Holayter, assistant director of the International Association of Machinists, showed that the "prime purpose of the meeting in Little Rock was to persuade Congressman Pryor to be their candidate and to plan his strategy for the campaign."

"This series of meetings, the

Israeli Reprisal Expected

Israeli jets swooped over southern Lebanon and troop movements were reported along the border Thursday night, heightening expectation of an attack in reprisal for the massacre at Tel Aviv international airport.

In Israel, fear of another terrorist attack sent extra troops and ambulances racing to the airport Thursday night, and passengers and all baggage on at least six incoming flights were searched thoroughly. Unofficial reports said the lone survivor of the three-man Japanese suicide mission told interrogators that another slaughter was planned.

There was no attack. In a midnight radio broadcast, Transport Minister Shimon Peres said "increased security measures have been put in force" and will continue.

Israeli Skyhawk and Mirage jets spent 15 minutes over southern Lebanon, and Palestinians in Beirut said attack on the area appeared inevitable. Some Lebanese, however, predicted the Israelis would hit neither guerrilla bases in the south, scene of many Israeli raids, nor the Beirut airport, where security has been tightened considerably.

"The Israelis must use the element of surprise," one observer said. "They will probably pick the least expected form of retaliation."

A main thoroughfare in Beirut and a refugee camp on the road to the airport were mentioned as possible targets. Women and children have been evacuated from some guerrilla camps.

The Israeli government blamed Lebanon for the attack, charging that it harbored the guerrilla organization which hired the three Japanese terrorists, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine. Lebanon's ambassador to the United Nations denied this, saying the Front had a press office only in Beirut.

Israel's U.N. ambassador, Yosef Tekoah, said that Egypt as well as Lebanon bore a special responsibility for the attack, in which 26 persons including two of the terrorists were killed and about 70 wounded.

"Egypt, as you know, has become the motive factor behind this terror warfare," Tekoah told newsmen at U.N. headquarters in New York.

The three Japanese arrived in Israel aboard an Air France

Pryor Accepts TV Time

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The free offer from Little Rock television station KATV for an hour of prime time for a "joint appearance" by Rep. David Pryor and Sen. John L. McClellan was accepted Thursday night by Pryor.

Robert Doubleday, president and general manager of the station, made the offer Thursday to both Pryor and McClellan. Doubleday asked that representatives of McClellan and Pryor meet with two officials of KATV to work out a format and details for the program.

McClellan has not replied to the offer yet.

Iraqi Oil Cut Off for West

By HARRY A. DUNPHY
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT (AP) — The Iraqi government today suspended exports of its country's oil from Mediterranean terminals and sent its foreign minister to Moscow for "important talks" in the wake of the nationalization of the European-American Iraq Petroleum Co.

President Ahmed Hassan al Bakr in a broadcast Thursday night announced the seizure of the company, which accounted for about 10 per cent of the Middle East's oil production. The president said the former owners would be compensated, and his government was setting up a new company to take over all IPC facilities.

The government should have little difficulty operating the new company since most of IPC's employees are Iraqis. But presumably the foreign minister went to Moscow to ask Soviet help in marketing the oil in order to circumvent legal action by IPC.

A Baghdad broadcast today said the Mediterranean terminals of IPC's pipeline from its fields in northern Iraq had been instructed to suspend exports indefinitely. The terminals are at Banias, Syria, and Tripoli, Lebanon, with the Lebanese terminal fed by a spur from the line through Syria.

Syria nationalized the pipeline Thursday night in the wake of the Iraqi action. Lebanon took no action on the company's properties there.

IPC's headquarters are in London and its assets are valued at more than $350 million. Two U.S. firms, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Mobil, own 23.75 per cent of the stock; British Petroleum, Royal Dutch Shell and Compagnie Francaise des Petroles own 23.75 per cent each, and the Gulbenkian Foundation has 5 per cent.

Bakr said his Socialist regime was willing to continue dealing with the French partner in the consortium "because of France's honorable stand toward the Arab cause."

Tax System Rejected

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A Superior Court judge struck down Arizona's property tax system of school financing, but delayed implementation of his ruling to give the state legislature time to develop another method.

The property tax system is unconstitutional because it favors the wealthy and discriminates against poor school districts, Judge Charles Hardy ruled Thursday.

The system violates the equal protection provisions of both the state and federal constitutions, he said.

11 Hurt in Explosion on Mo. Pac.

DALLAS (AP) — A Missouri-Pacific railroad tank car exploded in flames Thursday night, injuring at least 11 persons and forcing evacuation of many homes on the city's East Side.

About 75 families left their homes and 15 units of an apartment house were emptied after the blast.

Many of the injured, none believed seriously hurt, were cut by shattering window glass, firemen said.

At least three homes near the explosion were badly burned. There was lesser damage to 20 other houses, mostly broken windows.

The fire went to four alarms as firemen sought to keep the flames from exploding another tank car that contained ethylene gas.

The blast derailed several freight cars and was heard for many blocks.

Fire Capt. Larry Roberts said the car that exploded contained liquefied petroleum gas.

A community center and a church in the area were opened for the evacuated residents. Police sealed off about a 10-block area surrounding the burning tank car.

Firemen said the cause of the explosion was not immediately known.

Road Mine in Ulster Kills 2 Soldiers

BELFAST (AP) — A road mine at the border of the Irish Republic killed two British soldiers today and wounded two others as Roman Catholic women seeking peace in Northern Ireland claimed growing thousands of followers.

A British army spokesman said it appeared that the mine had been detonated from inside the republic. He said a second mine was found in the same vicinity, with wires stretching 2,000 yards into the republic, but it was defused.

The soldiers were on a foot patrol inspecting the border area near Rosslea, in County Fermanagh.

The death of the soldiers brought the toll to 354 in three years of communal violence in Northern Ireland.

An eight-woman group in the Andersonstown district of Belfast, one of the toughest Roman Catholic areas in the city, claimed they had 40,000 signatures on a petition demanding that the Irish Republican Army's militant Provisional wing put down its guns.

They said they will have 40,000 more signatures in a few weeks.

Another peace group operating in the IRA stronghold of "Free Derry," in Londonderry, claimed its week-old petition calling for a cease-fire had 4,000 signatures with hundreds more coming.

The claims reflected growing Catholic disenchantment with the IRA Provisionals, who have pledged to continue their bloody campaign to drive the British out of the province despite a four-day-old cease-fire by their Marxist rivals, the Official wing of the underground army.

financial support promised, and the staff personnel pledged culminated in Congressman Pryor's candidacy," the senator said.

McClellan then said "it should be remembered that I incurred the strong displeasure and enmity of many national labor union bosses when my investigating subcommittee exposed improper practices, corruption in a number of national unions."

Under questioning, McClellan said that he recalled nothing improper having been done by any of the labor union figures who reportedly attended meetings to discuss Pryor's candidacy for the U.S. Senate.

The McClellan hearings were about 15 years ago.

The senator said that labor figures had been searching for years, however, to find a formidable foe for him and had at times consulted with former Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Dr. Ralph Phelps, formerly president of Ouachita Baptist University at Arkadelphia.

In his prepared statement, McClellan said his investigating led him to author legislation setting out a bill of rights for union members to protect them from abuses by labor bosses.

"The foregoing are the prime reasons why I today have the active opposition of a number of labor bosses," McClellan said. "Rank and file union members do not oppose this bill of rights. It offends only those who want to intimidate, coercion and violate the legitimate rights of the worker."

At one point, a newsman asked McClellan if he meant to imply that the labor figures supporting Pryor were bent on intimidation, coercion or violation of the legitimate rights of workers. The senator answered that his investigations had uncovered such abuses, and, "That's why I have opposition."

McClellan said he had made no decision yet on whether to accept Pryor's challenge to a public debate.

The senator also said that he would make no decision on the offer of television station KATV of free air time for a debate until the station submitted a format for him to consider.

McClellan said in his statement that Pryor had distorted the truth about the senator's record. "I intend to reveal the truth about his," McClellan said.

"The choice is very clear," he said. "The people can continue in office an independent, effective senator who is not subservient to the will and dictates of any special interest, or they can 'make a Pryor commitment' as my opponent urges them to do."

"Make a Pryor Commitment" is a campaign slogan used by Pryor in his bid for the U.S. Senate nomination.

McClellan said he believed that friends of Sen. J. W. Fulbright and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills should take note of a "Pryor commitment that a law should be enacted to compel the retirement of a congressman or senator after he has had 30 years of service regardless of whether the people might wish to retain him in office."

His own view, McClellan said, is that the people should make the decision on when an elected official should be retired.

Ford Awaits Possible Shutdown

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford Motor Co., the nation's No. 2 automaker, awaited decisions today from the Environmental Protection Agency which could shut down the company's new-car production lines.

Leading up to his announcement today, EPA Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus had been seeking some legal means to keep the assembly lines rolling while Ford tried for the second time to win federal antipollution certification for its 1973 models.

Without certification, the cars cannot be sold.

In mid-May, Ford told EPA its already-submitted certification test results contained errors.

Ruckelshaus aide George V. Allen said Thursday EPA was investigating the possibility of criminal prosecution of Ford employees on charges of falsifying the tests.

At the same time, Ruckelshaus is prohibited from certifying Ford's new cars unless he can find a legal out. If Ford is unable to ship the cars to its dealers without certification, the company faces the prospect of having to shut down production.

Ford has said it is repeating the tests, but that process is expected to take about three months, much too long to prevent a jamup in the delivery of cars to dealers next fall.

Interviewed Thursday, Allen said EPA was investigating "whether sanctions, including criminal sanctions, should be imposed on Ford or any Ford employees" because of the incorrect original test.

Youth Killed

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) — Tommy Morgan, 10, of Route 10, Mountain Home, was killed Thursday night when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car on U. S. 62 about 2½ miles west of here.

State Police said the driver of the car was Daniel Lee Smith, 23, of Gassville.

Law Allowing Wire Tap Is Ruled Out

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A judge has declared unconstitutional the 1968 federal law allowing wiretapping on grounds that it puts "the privacy of every citizen in jeopardy."

U.S. District COURT Judge Joseph S. Lord III made the ruling Thursday in connection with a motion by seven defendants in an alleged $10 million gambling case who sought to suppress evidence gathered by electronic surveillance.

U.S. Atty. Peter Vaira, chief of the Justice Department's strike force on organized crime here, discounted any immediate effect the ruling would have.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said there would be no comment on the ruling until the Criminal Division obtained a copy and studied it.

Judge Lord said the law was "unconstitutional on its face" because it violated the 4th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which guarantees citizens privacy against unwarranted searches and intrusions. "The privacy of every citizen is in jeopardy if we become a nation which sanctions the indiscriminate use of secret electronic searches by the government," the judge said.

A wiretap had been placed on the phone of Matthew F. Whitaker, 58, of Pottstown, who police described as the gambling czar of Schuylkill County in eastern Pennsylvania.

Last Rites for Duke of Windsor

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
WINDSOR, England (AP) — A huge crowd paid final homage and farewell today to the Duke of Windsor.

Prime Minister Edward Heath, Baroness Spencer-Churchill, widow of Britain's wartime prime minister, and Earl Mountbatten, a cousin and childhood friend of the duke, were among early mourners to file through St. George's Chapel of Windsor Castle.

The coffin lay on a royal blue catafalque close to the royal crypt which he spurned. The former King Edward VIII, who became the first Duke of Windsor after his abdication in 1936, will be laid to rest Monday in a mausoleum in the castle grounds. He chose this spot because his wife can be buried there next to him.

The coffin was draped with the duke's personal standard of red, white, blue and gold, topped by a single wreath of lilies from his American-born duchess, the former Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson.

The duchess arrived in London from Paris as the crowd of mourners began filing past the coffin of her husband. She was met at London's Heathrow Airport by Lord Mountbatten who escorted her to Buckingham Palace.

More than 2,000 people filed past the catafalque during the first hour, according to official estimates. Many diplomats and envoys from Commonwealth countries were in the crowd.

The duchess arrived at Buckingham Palace shortly before lunch and went directly to the suite on the first floor made available to her by Queen Elizabeth II. She lunched with the queen.

It was the first time in the 35 years she was married to the duke that the duchess has stayed at the palace.

Helen Help Us!

Euthanasia Versus Love

DEAR HELEN: I'm sure the letter from "Sorrowing Mother" (who has the hopelessly deformed, retarded, vegetable child) brought a flood of mail. She asked "Why can't hopeless cases be mercifully put to sleep—why must suffering people be kept alive?"

Having experienced this same sorrow only last year, I know the borrowed-in feeling, the sense of despair, the loss of faith she is going through.

What "Sorrowing Mother" needs is someone to talk to, a way that she and her husband can get away for a few hours of being alone, and the assurance that this was not her fault.

My poor son only vegetated for six months before we lost him, but they were the longest, most confused and guilt-ridden months in our lives. Please Helen, direct her to a mental health agency that can give her and her husband counseling. It's not the child's death she's crying out for! —B.F.

DEAR HELEN: This is an answer to "Sorrowing Mother."

I'm the mother of a hopelessly birth-defected baby. He's six months old and has had four major surgeries. His head is the size of an adult's. It could be called gruesome if he didn't have the most beautiful eyes and smile.

He may never crawl, walk, talk. He may be dead tomorrow morning. He's a day by day wait. But he's a joy to be around. Even though he'll never be normal he's given so many people patience, faith and hope, just knowing him.

I hope that parents of normal babies, when they see ours, count their blessings, and give a little more to the agencies for the study of birth defects—some day, I know, these "hopeless" children can be cured.

I love to cuddle my little one and doctors say that love is the best therapy for him. I'm thankful that God trusts me with this special child. —N.J.M.

DEAR HELEN: When a terminally ill patient is being kept alive only by extraordinary means, doctors often order the machines turned off so that the person can die with dignity.

Why not then allow the same kindness to a doomed and hopelessly blighted child? Society is hypocritical and backward in its tearful insistence that all human life is sacred. This world is not a safe place for these unfortunate children. After the parents are gone, then what? A kind of living death in institutions? —F O R

EUTHANASIA

DEAR HELEN:

Who does "Sorrowing Mother" pity: herself or the child?

Our 12-year-old boy is so handicapped he can't do anything for himself. I feed, dress, change his diapers and care for him as I would for a baby. But we don't let him lie in bed all day. My husband has constructed a specially built wheel chair so that he can't fall out and away we go. Our three other children accept him lovingly, as do their friends.

Of course I get depressed occasionally. Who wouldn't? But then I see the love and trust shining in Larry's eyes, and I am thankful we have him.

Our family has learned much from Larry. We know that we will someday lose him but we are thankful for every day we have with him. —MRS. L.V.

DEAR HELEN:

"Sorrowing Mother's" letter cried out for an answer. I have several friends with retarded children and my brother has a physically handicapped child. In each case, the attitude and actions of the parents determined the effect the problem child had on the family. It was only natural that their first reactions were that of shock, hurt grief, but in each case they were able, with the help of counseling to take themselves in tow and be happy that they have not copped out. They have found that never is a family so close as when members are working together for someone.

If mercy killings were legal, "S.M." might experience a sense of guilt and failure that she could not erase. She can turn sorrow into fulfillment. —J.F.H.

Lawsuit Follows Blalock Suspension

ATLANTA (AP) — Jane Blalock, one of the most promising young players on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour, countered a one-year suspension Thursday by filing a $5 million lawsuit against the organization.

The suspension "for actions inconsistent with the code of ethics of the organization" was announced here Thursday by E. M. "Bud" Erickson, LPGA executive director, only hours before two New York attorneys filed the suit on Miss Blalock's behalf in U.S. District Court.

The suit also seeks a court order to permit Miss Blalock to compete in tournaments while the case is being resolved. Judge Charles A. Moyer Jr. scheduled a hearing on that motion for 10 a.m. today in his chambers.

Miss Blalock, a 26-year-old blue-eyed blonde from Portsmouth, N.H., is the leading money winner on the LPGA tour this year with $32,886.

In only her fourth year on the tour, she already has won honors as rookie of the year in 1969 and most improved golfer in 1970 and 1971.

Miss Blalock is asking for damages of not less than $1 million, to be trebled as provided by law. She also seeks $1 million for compensatory damages and $1 million for punitive damages.

Erickson said the suspension was taken after Miss Blalock met with the executive committee three times in the last 10 days. He said she was advised of the suspension Tuesday night.

Miss Blalock wasn't available for comment on the matter and Erickson declined to comment on her lawsuit. "We will answer the complaint at the proper time," he said.

Erickson said Miss Blalock was disqualified after the second round the Blue Grass Invitation at Louisville May 20 "for violation of replacing of ball on green improperly." He said she signed a scorecard for a 74 rather than a 76 and was subject to disqualification for signing an incorrect scorecard.

Violation of the rule regarding the spotting of a ball on a green calls for a two shot penalty.

Indy Driver Disgusted With Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Add Jim Hurtubise's name to the list of drivers disgruntled with Saturday's Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Hurtubise was dropped from 16th to 23rd, and he's not happy about it. In fact, he says he may quit the U.S. Auto Club.

The popular driver was shoved down seven places because his racer was hauled across the infield to the pits after running out of fuel during the race.

"They let me drive 200 miles, nearly half the race," Hurtubise said by telephone from his North Tonawanda, N.Y., garage. "I think there is a lot of straightening out needed in a lot of places. If they think I'm out there for my health they are mistaken."

Hurtubise said he "nearly had a fist fight" with track attendants who gave him a tow.

Chief steward Harlan Fengler told drivers at the pre-race meeting any car stalled on the track would have to go around the course. Hurtubise said.

Reds Tie For Second Place With Astros

Break up the Cincinnati Reds ... and wake up the Houston Astros.

The revitalized "Big Red Machine" continued to roll Thursday night, mashing faltering Houston 10-3 and moving into a second place tie with the Astros in the National League West.

"It's hard to beat us when we're hitting," Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson said in a masterful understatement after his club swept a four-game series at the Astrodome with an awesome power display. Hal McRae's grand slam home run featured an 11-hit attack that also included homers by Johnny Bench and Tony Perez in the spacious park not especially known as a hitter's paradise. The production gave the Reds a total of 39 runs in the four games.

"Johnny has gotten himself started again and Tony's hand is much better," said Anderson, pointing to Bench's four circuit shots in the last three contests and Perez' availability after an injury that knocked him out of 12 games.

The loss was the sixth straight for the Astros, and the sixth victory for the Reds in seven games. The outcome of Thursday night's contest left both clubs 1½ games behind front-running Los Angeles after the Dodgers dropped a 5-2 decision to the San Francisco Giants.

In the National League's other games, the New York Mets beat the Philadelphia Phillies 6-1 and the Chicago Cubs turned back the St. Louis Cardinals 7-3.

American League results: Kansas City 5, Minnesota 3; Milwaukee 9, New York 8 in 12 innings; Cleveland 1, Detroit 0 and Boston 7, Baltimore 1.

Sanudo Leads With Borrowed Putter

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Cesar Sanudo was recounting a fairway conversation that occurred while he was forging a seven-under-par 65 for the first-round lead in the $175,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

"I'd borrowed this putter from Lee Trevino just the day before," the obscure Sanudo said Thursday after putting his signature to the best round of his pro career.

"And I was playing just in front of Lee. He saw me making all those putts and all those birdies and he yelled at me, don't forget—I get 30 per cent."

"So I yelled back at him. 'Okay, if I can have 30 per cent of yours for the year.'"

It wouldn't be a bad deal for the 28-year-old Sanudo, a Mexican-born American citizen now in his fourth year on the pro tour. He's won but $5,755 this season opposed to Trevino's $98,447 and last year pocketed only $18,031 while Trevino took home $231,202. He's never challenged seriously in a major event.

More than 50 of the touring pros were able to match or better par 72 on the 7,278-yard Quail Hollow Country Club course, but only Billy Casper could stay close to blithe spirit Sanudo, a quick man with a quip and ever ready with a smile.

Home runs by Cesar Cedeno and Doug Rader helped Jerry Reuss off to a 3-0 lead as the left-hander struck out seven over the first four innings. Then Cincinnati's "Machine" began hitting on all cylinders.

Steve Stone pitched a five-hitter and rookie Gary Maddox delivered a two-run single in a three-run fourth inning to pace San Francisco's victory. Singles by Tito Fuentes and Ed Goodson started the rally off Bill Singer. Fuentes eventually came home on Chris Speier's sacrifice fly before Maddox drilled his game-winning hit to right.

Rusty Staub drilled a three-run homer in the first inning, giving pitcher Jim McAndrew ample working margin, as New York beat Philadelphia and improved its first-place lead in the East to five games over idle Pittsburgh.

The loss was the 15th in the last 16 games for Philadelphia and plunged the Phillies deeper in the East basement. Ron Santo, Jim Hickman, and J.C. Martin smashed extra-base hits during a six-run rally in the first inning that powered the first inning that powered the first inning that powered the first inning.

Hands benefited from the outburst to win his fourth game in five decisions.

National League scores: New York Mets 6, Philadelphia 1; Chicago Cubs 7, St. Louis 3; San Francisco 5, Los Angeles 2; Cincinnati 10, Houston 3; Pittsburgh, Montreal, Atlanta and San Diego had the day off.

Rico Petrocelli staked Siebert to a 2-0 lead in the first inning with a two-run single off Dave McNally and Carlton Fisk slammed a two-run homer in the second, his third in the last four games.

Cleveland got Perry the only run he needed against Detroit in the third inning when Eddie Leon walked, Perry sacrificed and Tom McCraw singled, one of only three hits off loser Joe Coleman.

The Tigers nipped Perry for seven hits, two each in the first and fifth, but the tall right-hander worked out of each threat and ended the Indians' seven-game losing streak. Their last victory was on May 23—a shutout by Perry, natch.

The Alexandria Aces may be in third place in the Texas League East but they've got the number of their National League parent San Diego Padres.

The Padres, limping along next to last in the NL West, dropped by their farm club for an exhibition breather Thursday but the Aces were serious.

Alexandria ripped the Padres 5-3, with six Ace pitchers allowing San Diego only four hits.

In regular league action, Arkansas retained its TL East lead with a 4-2 victory over Midland. El Paso shaved Memphis 3-2 and Amarillo downed Shreveport by the same score in 11 innings.

Red Sox Wing Orioles 7-1

Sonny Siebert isn't much on bird-watching, but nothing lifts his spirits like the sight of the Baltimore Orioles.

The 35-year-old right-hander of the Boston Red Sox winged the Orioles 7-1 Thursday for his 16th victory in 20 career decisions against the team that has won the last three American League pennants.

Siebert took a so-so 3-2 record and bloated 4.47 earned run average into the game but throttled the Birds on seven hits and one unearned run and reduced his ERA to 3.82.

"You look at his statistics and they're not that great," said Billy Hunter, a Baltimore coach. "But when he sees the Orioles' uniforms he doesn't worry too much."

Elsewhere, Cleveland nipped Detroit 1-0 as Gaylord Perry became the first nine-game winner in the majors, Kansas City downed Minnesota 5-3 and Milwaukee edged the New York Yankees 9-8 in 12 innings. Oakland, the Chicago White Sox, California and Texas were not scheduled.

UCLA In Showdown For Championship

By KEN DONEY
Associated Press Writer

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — It may be a UCLA-Southern California showdown for the national track and field championship. At least that's how UCLA coach Jim Bush sizes up the 51st annual NCAA meet after its opening session.

"We're hanging in tough and certainly are not out of it—anything can happen," Bush said after the three-day meet got under way Thursday on the University of Oregon campus.

"The way I see it, it will be UTEP (University of Texas-El Paso), Oregon, USC and ourselves," he said. "I think that USC and UCLA look the strongest—after all, Oregon lost a lot of points today."

UCLA, the defending champion, and USC, Oregon and UTEP went into the meet as favorites. After Thursday's qualifying, Southern Cal was rated a slight favorite, although Bush and a number of other coaches disagreed.

John Smith of UCLA, the 440-yard run winner last year, finished first in his heat of the 400 meters in 45.9.

Oregon and UTEP both were

Spends Vacation In Golf Tourney

SANDWICH, England (AP) — If you are a scratch golfer and your wife an airline hostess who can get you cheap transatlantic travel, why not take your vacation playing in the British Amateur Championship?

That's just what Kemp Richardson, a 6-foot 2-inch stockbroker from Huntington Beach, Calif., did. Today he's in the quarter-finals.

"What a lark," Richardson said. "I came for the trip really. I tried twice to qualify for the American amateur and failed each time. I never expected to do as well as this over here."

Thursday, over the tricky 6,633-yard, par 34-36—70 Royal St. George's course—unlike anything American players know at home—Richardson humbled two well-rated British players.

Of the 43 Americans who set out in this tournament, he is the only one to reach the last eight.

In the morning, Richardson, shooting six birdies, shook British hopes by downing Michael King, a seeded player, 2 and 1. In the afternoon he won 3 and 1 against Peter Bucher, a Scot.

Thursday afternoon America still had two hopes alive in the tournament—Richardson and Walker Cupper Dick Siderowf of Westport, Conn.

They both work for the same firm of stockbrokers, Eastman Dillon, with Richardson in the Long Beach office and Siderowf in New York. But they never met until they came face to face in the clubhouse here this week.

Dog Finishes Last In Qualifying Run

By DAN BERGER

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — There's always more laughter on the first day of the NCAA track and field championships because there are no losers—except for those who fail to make the finals.

The laughter was there late Thursday when the proverbial dog-on-the-field showed up to literally dog the 5,000-meter runners attempting to qualify for Saturday's finals. The floppy-eared critter was finally chased off the track after a good run down backstretch and around the turn.

But the disappointments, few though they were, stood out in this 51st annual meet.

Local favorite Todd Lathers, Oregon's 8:40.4 steeplechaser last year, ran dead last in his heat and failed to make the finals.

Cary Feldmann, Washington's defending javelin champion, threw only 225-7 for 17th and didn't qualify.

Fred Samara of Penn and Mike Hill of Colorado, pre-meet decathlon favorites, dropped out with injuries.

Harold Williams of Texas-El Paso was disqualified for two false starts in the 100 and teammate Steve Williams re-injured a groin muscle and is out hurt in the qualifying, but Southern Cal, which won the Pacific-8 Conference title, moved sprinters Don Quarrie, Willie Deckard and Leon Brown into today's semifinals of the 100 and 200. The Trojans' 400 relay team featuring that trio also qualified.

Deckard's challengers in the 100 today included Ivory Crockett of Southern Illinois, the 1970 AAU champion at 100 yards, who finished No. 1 in his heat of the 100-meter run in a wind-aided 9.9 seconds.

One of UTEP's setbacks came in the 100 where Harold Williams was eliminated after a series of false starts. The Miners also lost Steve Williams, their standout freshman sprinter, who aggravated a muscle pull.

UTEP, banking on its sprinters for a shot at the national title, did qualify defending champion Harrington Jackson and Errol Stewart in the 100, Fernando DeLaCorda in the 800, and Harold Williams and Jackson in the 200. The Miners' 440 relay team also qualified.

Today's schedule called for finals in the decathlon, long jump, hammer, shot put, 100 meters, 10,000 meters and 110 meter high hurdles. There were semifinals planned in five other events.

As in previous Olympic years, the 1972 meet is being measured almost entirely in metric distances.

Babe Ruth Action

In Babe Ruth League action last night at Legion Field Citizens won over Blevins by a score of 8 to 6 in the first game of the night, and Anderson-Frazier was the winner over Merchants, 8 to 5.

Clay O'Steen was the pitcher for the winners in the first game, allowing three hits and striking out four. Mark Spears was the pitcher for the losers. The leading hitter was James Stagers with one double. Jim Rhodes, Larry Banks, Curtis Banks, Gary Banks, and Don Askew got singles. For Blevins Levell Scott had two singles and Jerry White got one single.

The second game Terry Smith and Mike Butler were on the mound for the winners. They allowed one hit and struck out four. Tim Walton, Mike Hobson, David Cobb, and Harley Sisson were the pitchers for the losers. Hitters were Billy Ogburn, Dick Willis, and Larry Huff with singles. For Merchants Mickey McCormack got the only hit, which was a triple.

Friday night games will be Blevins vs 1st National at 6:30 and Citizens taking on Corn Belt in the second game.

War Eagle Arts and Crafts Fair Scheduled June 12-24

By FAUNE CONNER
Travel Writer, Department of Parks and Tourism

A unique opportunity awaits those amateur and professional artists who would like to increase their knowledge and further their skills and, at the same time, enjoy a pleasant two-week vacation in the beautiful Arkansas Ozarks.

During the summer weeks of June 12 through June 24, the Ozarks Arts and Crafts Fair Association is sponsoring the third annual Arts and Crafts Seminar at the charmingly rustic War Eagle Mills Farm and the classes are open to people from all over the United States who are interested.

For a modest fee of only $25 the two-week classes in weaving, pottery, painting and wood carving will be taught by nationally recognized artists, craftsmen and instructors who are outstanding in their fields. The four classes will all be conducted outdoors in a relaxed, informal atmosphere and will last from 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. weekdays. The intervening weekend will be free to spending as students wish.

A more perfect site for the classes could not have been chosen than the peacefully isolated valley of the historic War Eagle Mills Farm reached by Arkansas highway 303. Surrounded by a twisting, churning mountain stream known as the War Eagle River, the farm lends itself beautifully to a studios and inspiring workshop and, at the same time, offers a fascinating glimpse into the past through the physical remnants of a bygone era.

The lush green country was first settled in 1832 by pioneer Sylvanus Blackburn who built several dams across the War Eagle to power the area's first mills and also constructed an impressive two-story log house which still stands on the farm.

So different from the usual carefully confined seminar, War Eagle invites many of those who attend to bring their camping gear, boats and fishing equipment along and take advantage of northwest Arkansas' numerous lakes and recreational activities. Nearby Beaver Lake has an abundance of fine camping areas, water sport facilities and motels while the neighboring towns of Fayetteville, Springdale, Rogers and Eureka Springs (all within 25 miles of War Eagle) have excellent accommodations and an endless list of museums, historical sites and tourist attractions guaranteed to entertain every member of the family.

The pottery class, which will be held under a towering shady elm tree in the farm pasture, will be taught by David Greer, a Prague, Oklahoma native whose work has been shown in numerous museums and the Smithsonian Institute. Miss Alice Mae Alexander, a professor of home economics at the University of Missouri, will conduct the weaving class on the large balcony of the antebellum Blackburn home, and Willard Stone, one of the nation's outstanding wood sculptors, will instruct the carving course.

Hulsey said he suspended Stokes because Stokes "beat Miller up" March 14 at Horse-shoe Lake in Crittenden County.

He said he suspended Miller because he had "harassed Stokes into beating him up" by telling unsubstantiated "stories" about Stokes' conduct to Game and Fish Commission officials.

Hulsey said he decided on the suspensions after reviewing the testimony in U. S. District court here in the trial of Stokes, Billy Brown of West Memphis and Lanny Green of Hughes.

The three were acquitted May 23 of conspiring to assault a government witness — Miller — who has testified in 1970 against Stokes and Brown in a federal case in which Stokes and Brown were convicted of shooting doves over a baited field.

Warden Suspended

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Andrew Hulsey, director of the state Game and Fish Commission, suspended indefinitely without pay Wednesday two employees of the commission.

They were Paige Miller of Earle, a game warden, and Garland Stokes of Hughes, an area manager for the commission.

Hulsey said he suspended Stokes because Stokes "beat Miller up" March 14 at Horse-shoe Lake in Crittenden County.

He said he suspended Miller because he had "harassed Stokes into beating him up" by telling unsubstantiated "stories" about Stokes' conduct to Game and Fish Commission officials.

Hulsey said he decided on the suspensions after reviewing the testimony in U. S. District court here in the trial of Stokes, Billy Brown of West Memphis and Lanny Green of Hughes.

The three were acquitted May 23 of conspiring to assault a government witness — Miller — who has testified in 1970 against Stokes and Brown in a federal case in which Stokes and Brown were convicted of shooting doves over a baited field.

People who test drive a Plymouth, buy a Plymouth.

Here's why:

I'm in the business. A mechanic for an intermediate car, I just cannot beat that Plymouth Satellite. It gives you all the feel and power you need. The brakes are unbeatable. Room is no problem. I carry six people. I feel that no one can compete with Chrysler Engineering.

At first glance it might not look like a family car, but once you try it on, it fits just right. Room for six. Plenty of power. And a trunk to match. (That's a Satellite. That's the kind of car we think America wants.)

Women like Satellite too. And for many of the same reasons as men. It's got a big car ride. Plenty of room. It's so small enough to park with ease. Now add great styling, a very attractive price and you've got a car that's not for men only. Satellite. See us and see why.

Drive it. You'll like it.

Opening lead—♠Q

By Oswald & James Jacoby

If you want to overbid it behooves you to play the dummy very well and it also helps a lot if you can get your opponents to cooperate with you.

Here is a hand played by Mike Lawrence in the 1970 world championship. His two-heart overcall was nothing to sing songs about, but he still continued to game after Bob Hammann raised him to three.

West opened the queen of spades. East took his ace and led a small spade back. Mike was delighted to find his king holding but things didn't look at all good. He had lost one trick and still had two diamonds and a club to lose, not to mention the possibility of the queen of hearts scoring against him.

He needed a lot of luck plus a mistake and it all worked out. He led a trump to dummy's king and played the three of clubs. East thought and thought and thought and finally came to the conclusion that Mike was trying to sneak a trick with the singleton king. He went up with the ace of clubs and might have beaten the hand by shifting to a diamond but he chose to lead the jack of spades in hopes of developing a trump trick.

Mike ruffed and when West failed to overruff, Mike's troubles were over. He took his king of clubs; led a diamond to dummy's ace; discarded one losing diamond on the queen of clubs; led trumps and conceded a diamond trick at the end.

Methodists Dismiss Homosexuality Talks

By RICHARD BEENE
Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Southwest Texas Methodist virtually dismissed a task force report on homosexuality and the church Wednesday. But a suspended minister whose case prompted the report said he would seek an audience with them today.

Delegates to the annual Southwest Texas United Methodist Conference voted overwhelmingly to table the controversial report, which dealt with theological, ethical and sociological perspectives of homosexuality.

F. Gene Leggett of Dallas, who was suspended as a minister after he disclosed his homosexuality to conference delegates here last year, denounced the group's action.

By tabling the report, he said, the conference was symbolically tabling "thousands of gay brothers and sisters" and failing to recognize them as people.

Leggett said he hoped to address the conference today, although he did not disclose the contents of his speech beforehand.

A tall, bearded man of 37 who wears flashy rings and hippie style clothes, Leggett lost his most recent bid for permission to return to the active ministry last Saturday.

His public disclosure of his homosexuality spurred his fellow Methodists last year to order the special task force report.

Prepared by a 10-man committee, the document offered 14 recommendations—including one calling for a study of the feasibility of appointing known homosexuals as pastors.

It also urged Methodists to be "open and receptive" to homosexuals and called on homosexuals in the church to "assist others to understand better the nature of homosexuality."

In a surprise move, the committee's chairman announced an amendment when he presented the report to the conference, deleting all the recommendations. The move still left a bulky report on the homosexual issue intact. The committee chairman, Rev. Sanford Coon of Austin, said later that the deletions were made because the task force felt it would help the delegates see the report itself for what it was intended—a tool for use in studying the matter of homosexuality and the church.

After brief discussion, however, the delegates approved a motion from the floor to table the entire report without debate, meaning it will not become a part of the permanent record.

Leggett's Gay Liberation Front supporters disrupted the conference last year when he lost his credentials. Some of them were present Wednesday but there were no incidents.

Leggett, who has served at churches here, in Dilley and Austin, Tex., said he was fired from the staff of the Dallas Theater Center last year, after he was suspended by the church. Theater officials felt he was "too interested in gay liberation," he said.

He said he now is working with a "gay house church," the House of the Covenant, in Dallas.

Leggett, who was ordained in 1959, said the homosexuality issue will come up at the annual conference here "every year until it no longer needs to be an issue." He declined to predict how long that will take.

This is a day of congratulations... a time for the rewarding of those who deserve it. They have finished a job. It is also their Commencement... young graduates must survey their individual and personal futures. It is beginning time for each. Unless they have learned well to do their duty instead of demanding their rights... unless they are qualified to take prosperity without pride, and adversity without anguish — they are unprepared for the future God has for them. This is a glad time, but it is also a most frightful, serious occasion. Eternal vigilance is the demand made by the world on those reaching this commencement hour. Today the pattern is formed, the die is cast. May every graduate from something-to-something in America, remember the words of St. Paul, who said: "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any praise, think on these things. Those things which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do; and the God of peace shall be with you," through Your Future.

Angela Davis Case to Jury

By EDITH M. LEDERER

Associated Press Writer

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The case of Angela Davis, labeled by the defense as "a gigantic hoax" and "a stain in the history of justice in this country," goes to the jury today.

Her attorney urged the all-white jury to "be black, think black."

Superior Court Judge Richard E. Arnason will deliver final instructions before the jury of seven women and five men begins deliberations.

In an emotion-packed final argument Thursday, defense attorney Leo A. Branton said only an "idiotic fool" could believe that a brilliant college teacher such as Angela Davis helped plan a disorganized courthouse escape attempt that ended in the deaths of four persons.

Miss Davis is charged with murder, kidnap and conspiracy and faces a life sentence if convicted.

At one point, Branton stood by a large easel, ripped off a large paper and revealed an almost life-sized drawing of Miss Davis — Afro hairdo, large glasses and miniskirt—with heavy chains on her hands and legs. "If the prosecution had its way, that's how Miss Davis would end up," he said.

Minutes later, Branton switched the drawing to one showing Miss Davis with chains lying broken at her feet and declared: "When this case is over, you will pull away these chains ... because that's where the chains should be in this case—broken, bent and destroyed."

When Branton finished, he walked behind the defense table and kissed Miss Davis, who had listened intently to his arguments. She delivered the defense's opening statement but did not testify on her own behalf.

Prosecutor Albert Harris Jr., who had the final word at the 13-week old trial, asked the jury to disregard "emotional appeals," look at evidence fairly and "see that justice is done" by bringing in a guilty verdict.

The evidence clearly shows, he said, that Miss Davis, a 28-year-old black Communist, helped Jonathan Jackson engineer the Aug. 7, 1970 escape attempt because she was in love with his older brother, George, and wanted to free him from San Quentin Prison.

The prosecution contends Miss Davis knowingly furnished Jonathan four guns which he brandished in Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley's Marin County courtroom where San Quentin convict James McClain was on trial.

Jonathan, McClain and two other convicts took the judge and four other persons hostage. The state claims the hostages were to be traded for freedom of the Soledad Brothers—George Jackson and two other convicts.

Business Office Is Social Center

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. business office used to be a place of work only. Today it has become pretty much the social center of American life.

As many a boss is aware, getting a job done is only a dim problem in the back of many a worker's head when he gets up in the morning and comes to his home away from home—the office.

In some ways he finds his office more relaxing than his home, because he has fewer responsibilities there and isn't annoyed by such intruding inconveniences as a frowny wife and noisy dillard children.

Millions of American working husbands and wives symbolically run away from home every day now. They go to the office.

Why? Because that's where the real fun is. That's where life can be lived to the hilt.

A business office is still reckoned as a market place. But that is only one of the functions it served. It is also a rest home, a restaurant, a hospital, a recreation area, an entertainment complex, a beauty parlor, a barbershop, a church, a gymnasium, a forum, and a passion pit where there is more hanky panky going on than at the average drive-in theater.

You go into the conference room, and what is going on there? The group may be considering raising or lowering the price of a product. It is more likely, on the other hand, to be arguing over whether management should be asked to change the color and design of the drapes.

You go up to any desk at random, and what is happening? The man may be writing a business memo. He could also be calling his girl friend, taking a nap, or even selling Christmas cards or real estate on the side.

You go into the men's washroom, and what do you see? You see two office boys giving each other a haircut, three guys hiding out with hangers, and a senior vice president washing the drip-dry shirt he plans to wear that evening.

There is a small morning prayer meeting going on in the cafeteria, but what is going on in the ladies' room a mere male can only guess.

And what is going on in the stockroom? Here modesty must draw a curtain where there is none. An orgy is an orgy is an orgy.

"Doesn't anybody ever do anything around here?" groans the boss, after an inspection tour. He retreats to his own sanctum and reaches for a golf club. Where else can he get in the practice to keep his putting game in shape?

The question again arises. How does a modern U.S. office business office get any business done?

Knows God only.

Bombers Hit Power Plant at Hanoi

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Phantom jets attacked one of Hanoi's power plants Thursday and blew out the center of a bridge on the northeast rail line to China, the U.S. Command announced today.

The attack on the Bac Giang power plant 25 miles northeast of Hanoi was the first since the resumption of the full-scale bombing of North Vietnam in April 6. The command said the 12,000-kilowatt plant was a "major source of electrical power to war-related industries" in the Hanoi area.

The pilots reported damage to the plant and its support buildings but said heavy smoke from the fires they caused prevented an assessment of the damage.

The attack was made by only a small number of Air Force F4s because the pilots used the super-accurate "smart" bombs guided by laser light beams and nose-cone television cameras.

Sweeping farther north, a second flight of Phantoms using the same technique attacked the Cao Nung railroad bridge midway between Hanoi and the Chinese border. The pilots said they dropped two center spans of the five-span bridge.

No jets were reported lost in the raids.

First reports said one South Vietnamese soldier was killed and 15 South Vietnamese, two South Koreans and three U.S. advisers were wounded.
